5 of Bambiha-Kaushal gang held, 9 weapons seized: Jalandhar police

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 20

JALANDHAR POLICE arrested five key operatives of the Bambiha-Kaushal gang involved in multiple serious offences, including extortion, murder and arms trafficking across several districts of Punjab, Director General of Police (DGP) Gaurav Yadav said here Sunday.

Nine weapons, including eight pistols and one revolver, and 15 live cartridges were seized from their possession, the DGP said.

The DGP added that the accused have several cases registered against them.

Police identified those persons as Jaspreet Singh, alias Jassa, of Boparai Kalan village in Jalandhar district, Harshdeep Singh of Garage Mehdood village in Hoshiarpur district, Shekhar of Muradpur village in Tarn Taran district, Gagandeep Singh, alias Ginni Bajwa, of New Model House in Jalandhar and Amit Sahota of Bambian Wal village in Jalandhar district.

Jalandhar Police Commissioner Swapan Sharma said, "Following inputs that members of the Bambiha-Kaushal gang are planning a major criminal activity in the state, police teams laid a check post at BSF Chowk and arrested three accused Jaspreet Jassa, Harshdeep and Shekhar after recovering six weapons from their possession."

"Later, two more operatives of the gang, identified as Gagandeep Ginni and Amit Sahota, were arrested at the check post near Bhargo Camp and three weapons were recovered from their possession. Further investigations are on and more arrests are expected," Sharma added.

A case each under the Arms Act was registered at the New Baradari police station and Bhargo Camp police station in Jalandhar, the officer said.

Brahmin community guides entire society: Himachal Gov

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
BULANDSHAHR (UP), OCTOBER 20

HIMACHAL PRADESH Governor Shiv Pratap Shukla on Sunday said the Brahmin community works to guide the entire society.

Addressing a Brahmin Unity conference organised by the Akhil Bhartiya Brahmin Mahasabha here, Shukla also said that having a nationalist personality should come naturally to people.

Former Rajasthan Governor Kalraj Mishra, who also attended the event, said the purpose of the conference is to unite all the Brahmin organisations and to make the society more aware.

"The Brahmin community has always moved forward taking along all sections of society. It has been working dedicatedly for the betterment of the nation. Also, we must make people aware of the forces conspiring to mislead the society," Mishra said.

People should be made aware of the misunderstandings being created about the Constitution, he added. Mishra also termed the recent communal violence in Bahraich a condemnable incident.

Addressing the gathering, former BJP leader Nupur Sharma said a message is being sent out through this conference that there should be unity not only among different castes, but in the society as a whole.

PROTECTION PLEA

Provide security to 'Kulhad Pizza' couple, HC orders Punjab Police

JAGPREET SINGH SANDHU
CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 20

THE PUNJAB and Haryana High Court has directed the Punjab Police to provide appropriate security to a couple from Jalandhar, popularly known as 'Kulhad Pizza' couple, after they moved the court for protection alleging threat to their life and liberty from four persons, alleged members of the Nihang community. The high court also issued a notice to the Punjab government in the matter.

The petitioners, Sajan Manchanda (Sehaj Arora), and his wife, Gurpreet Kaur, run a food business named 'Fresh Bite Kulhad Pizza' in Jalandhar.

The couple through counsel, Shivraj Singh and Atul Kumar, contended before the high court that they have been facing constant threats and harassment from private individuals. Despite filing several complaints with the police, no action has been taken to address the issue. The petitioners have reported multiple incidents of threats, property damage, and even physical abuse. Anti-social elements have targeted their restaurant and home, hurling bottles, throwing stones, and vandalising their car, the counsel submitted. Counsel for the petitioners told the court that the private respondents, who allegedly belong to Nihang community, have been targeting them (petitioners) as they put reels (videos) on their social media profiles while wearing a turban. Their family members, including the younger sister of Sehaj Arora, have been directly threatened of violence, including a recent incident where she was threatened to cut her wrist. Despite the seriousness of these threats and a specific request for police intervention on one such occasion, no significant action has been taken by the authorities, the petitioners' counsel submitted.

The petition states that the individuals responsible for the harassment are alleged members of the Nihang community, who claim to be above the law, and have openly threatened to kill them ('Kulhad Pizza' couple), even in the presence of police officers. The private respondents frequently broadcast threats on social media, heightening the couple's fears for their safety. The petitioners are living in constant fear, unable to even safely operate their business or stay at home, the petitioners' counsel submitted.

The counsel argued that despite submitting formal representations to high-ranking authorities, including Punjab governor, chief minister, and Director General of Police, no action has been taken to protect the petitioners. Given the grave danger to their life and liberty, the petitioners have no other recourse but to seek immediate intervention of the high court, the couple's counsel submitted.

After hearing the matter, a bench of Justice Manisha Batra issued a notice to the state and the private respondents in the matter. Ruchika Sabherwal, Senior Deputy Advocate General, Punjab, accepted the notice on behalf of Punjab Police and sought time to file status report. The high court directed that the Punjab Police, if need so arises, shall ensure appropriate security to the petitioners seeking protection qua their life and liberty, feeling threatened from private respondents.

The matter was adjourned to November 13.

On 21st October 1959, a platoon of 21 men from the Indo-Tibetan Border Force, including CRPF personnel, under SI Karam Singh, was patrolling the Indo-Tibet border near Hot Spring, Aksai Chin, Ladakh. Positioned at 15,000 to 16,000 ft above sea level, they were guarding the border amid rising Chinese military activity. In a surprise attack, the Chinese Army struck with automatic weapons and mortars. The troops displayed extraordinary resilience, but being outnumbered and outgunned, the patrol was overpowered. Ten valiant CRPF personnel were martyred. The martyrs' remains were laid to rest at Hot Springs. Since then, 21st October is observed annually as "Police Commemoration Day" to honor their sacrifice.

21 October 1992

On 21st October 1992, a bulletproof vehicle carrying troops from 74 Battalion of CRPF was on duty in Srinagar. As the vehicle slowed near Magarmal Chowk due to a crowd, a grenade concealed in cloth was thrown inside, exploding before the troops could react. LNK S.P. Mukherji sustained grievous injuries but, despite the chaos, the troops deboarded and took positions, though the militants had already dispersed into the crowd. LNK Mukherji was rushed to the hospital but tragically succumbed to his injuries, attaining martyrdom.

20 farmers from Tamil Nadu visit PAU, hold talks with experts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
LUDHIANA, OCTOBER 20

A 20-MEMBER farmers' delegation, accompanied by seven officials, from Tamil Nadu visited Punjab Agricultural University (PAU) in Ludhiana to bolster people-to-people contact and learn about agriculture practises in Punjab.

Dr Rupinder Kaur Toor, Associate Director (Skill Development), informed them about the pivotal role the PAU played in the development of agriculture in Punjab and India through heralding of Green Revolution, introduction high-yielding crop varieties, along with their matching production and protection technologies, promotion of subsidiary enterprises (beekeeping, mushroom cultivation, women-centric household activities, livestock farming, etc.,) and enhancement of skills for the production of skilled workforce in agriculture and allied sectors.

Coordinating visits to mushroom and apiary farms, mycologist Dr Shivani Sharma and entomologist Dr Amit Chaudhary talked about the expansion of mushroom growing and apiculture in Punjab, creating a sustainable future for the agripreneurs and small farmers as well as the women and youths via fiscal progress. "Call for the addition of nutrition, taste for delicacies and sedentary lifestyle have forced the masses to go in for mushrooms and honey (as a substitute to sugar) in their daily diet," they added.

Dr Amit Kaur, agronomist, spoke on the concerted efforts being made by the PAU to conserve water through the development and recommendation of early maturing, short duration, high-yielding 'PR' varieties of rice, capturing about 70-80 per cent of paddy area in Punjab.

Dr Mahesh Narang, head of the Department of Farm Machinery and Power Engineering, discussed the role of farm mechanisation in easing farm operations related to labour-intensive agriculture. He showed them farm machinery concerning paddy residue management and wheat sowing, fruit and vegetable cultivation, etc.

Two French trekkers rescued

Shimla: Two tourists from France were rescued on Sunday following a 10-hour-long search operation after they lost their way while trekking in the remote Rani Sui region near Manali on Saturday.

"The French nationals, Basile Marin and Leo Marin, had arrived in India on a tourist visa. The two went trekking in the Rani Sui region but lost their way en route yesterday (Saturday). One of the tourists informed their local friend, Annadita, who stays in Manali. Their friend approached Manali police station seeking assistance. And soon a team involving two mountaineers was formed for the rescue operation. The rescued tourists are safe," a police officer said. ENS
