35 KILLED, 43 INJURED AFTER MAN RAMS HIS CAR INTO CROWD IN CHINA

Police said the 62-year-old driver, surnamed Fan, had been "triggered by (his) dissatisfaction with the division of property following his divorce"

PEOPLE AT ZHUHAI SPORTS CENTRE TARGETED

According to police, the disgruntled man drove his small SUV into a crowd of people exercising at a sports centre in the Chinese city of Zhuhai, which is hosting a major international military airshow this week. Terming it a "major vicious incident", local police said the horrific incident occurred at 7:48 pm on Monday. The attacker tried to flee but the police nabbed him

ATTACKER SERIOUSLY INJURED, HOSPITALISED

- Responding officers found Fan in his vehicle attempting to self-harm with a knife. They swiftly intervened and sent him to hospital
- Fan is still receiving medical treatment as he was unconscious due to severe injuries to his neck and other areas and is not yet fit to be questioned by the police, state-run Xinhua news agency said | P11

High drama as Uddhav's bags checked again by EC officials

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

A day after he accused the Election Commission of India (ECI) of being selective in its searches, Shiv Sena (UBT) chief Uddhav Thackeray said he was subjected to checks for the second straight day on Tuesday, when he arrived in Latur district to campaign for the November 20 assembly polls. He said official searched his luggage, like they did on Monday after his helicopter landed at Wani in Yavatmal district.

Tuesday's inspection was carried out by the election officials after the former Maharashtra CM's chopper arrived at a helipad in Ausa of Latur ahead of his rally scheduled to be held in Kasar Shirshi village.

According to a video posted on X, Thackeray is heard asking the election staffers why he was being singled out for such searches.

Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Sanjay Raut alleged cash is being exchanged for votes at the behest of BJP-Sena-NCP leaders but the EC is not acting. "Our luggage, helicopter, private jet, cars... everything is checked. They search our homes also... We don't have a problem if it is done impartially. But, where Eknath Shinde, Ajit Pawar, and Devendra Fadnavis are contesting, ₹25 crore have already reached..." he alleged.

EC officials later confirmed that nothing objectionable was found in Thackeray's bags.

TWO MEITEIS CHARRED TO DEATH, 6 MISSING

Given the kinds of weapons recovered and the clothes they wore, we can say that they were either armed militants or armed miscreants

No CRPF personnel shall be allowed to leave their camp premises till they apologise, a Kuki student outfit said

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

THREE Meitei women and as many children from the same community have been missing from restive Manipur's Jiribam since Monday's gunfight in which 10 Kuki 'militants' were gunned down by the Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) and the police.

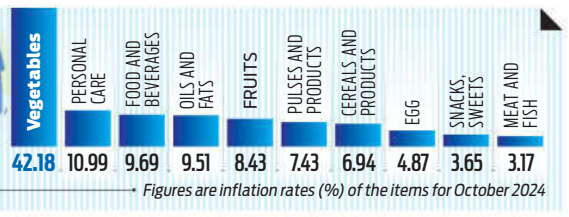

In Imphal, 13 organisations jointly announced a 24-hour total shutdown in the Imphal valley from 6 pm of Tuesday seeking government intervention to secure the release of the six individuals.

Talking about the Jiribam gunfight, Inspector General of Police I K Muivah said armed miscreants had attacked the Borobekra police station and also at a nearby CRPF camp at Jakuradhor on Monday afternoon. "The militants were using RPGs and other sophisticated weapons such as AK, INSAS, SLRs. A CRPF jawan was injured in the attack and evacuated to Assam for treatment," Muivah said.

The CRPF retaliated and the firing stopped after about 45 minutes. "About 10 militants were found dead. Two elderly persons were found burned to death while three women and three minor children were found missing," the IGP said, adding the police are trying to trace the six missing persons. The two elderly persons were from the Meitei community.

Protesting the "inhumane actions" of CRPF in Jiribam, the Kuki Students' Organisation issued a "notice" stating that "no CRPF personnel shall be allowed to leave their camp premises." It demanded a thorough and court-monitored probe into the "fake encounter".

Inflation heat breaches RBI's top tolerance level

Retail inflation shoots up to 6.21% in October, dashes rate cut hopes

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE spectre of inflation has come back to haunt the economy as retail inflation shot up to 6.21% in October, marking the highest level in 14 months, driven by a sharp spike in food prices. This surge was noted in the prices of fruits, vegetables, meat, fish, and cooking oils. Food inflation rose considerably to 10.87% in October, the highest in 15 months, up from 9.24% in September and 6.61% in the same month last year.

In October, the rate of price increases exceeded the Reserve Bank of India's upper limit for acceptable inflation (6%). Rural areas experienced a significant rise in inflation at 6.7%, while urban consumers faced a lower rate of 5.6%. The latest inflation numbers dash any hope of an interest rate cut by the RBI during its monetary policy review in December.

IIP TURNS POSITIVE

India's industrial production grew 3.1% with all three key sectors—mining, manufacturing, and power generation—demonstrating positive trends in September. This is a notable improvement as factory output had dipped to (-) 0.1% in August

In October, food prices in rural areas increased 10.7%, while urban food inflation was even steeper at 11.1%. Meanwhile, inflation for vegetables surged from 36% in September to a five-year high of 42.2% in October. Additionally, edible oil prices rose 9.5%, the biggest jump in two years.

Fruit prices rose 8.4%, while inflation for pulses decreased to 7.4%, ending a 17-month streak of double-digit price increases. On the other hand, spice prices fell 7%. Additionally, in October, households experienced an 11% increase in the costs of personal care products and services, up from 9% in September.

For experts, core inflation remaining below 4% for 11th consecutive month is a big positive. "The surge in vegetable prices was due to uneven rains. Data for November suggests some moderation in vegetable prices. This, in addition to a favourable base, can lend some downside to vegetable inflation," said Dharmakirti Joshi, chief economist, CRISIL.

Carbon market deal done? Experts wary

GAME-CHANGING TOOL: COP29

"This will be a game-changing tool to direct resources to the developing world and help us save up to $250 billion a year when implementing our climate plans," said Yalchin Rafiyev, Azerbaijan's Dy foreign minister and COP29 lead negotiator

THE United National Climate Conference (COP29) presidency has claimed early success with the adoption of standards for carbon credits, referred to as Article 6.4 of the Paris Agreement, a long-debated framework designed to help nations collaborate on reducing carbon emissions. But, critics say it was pushed without adequate scrutiny and would lead to greenwashing as there are not enough safeguards.

Yalchin Rafiyev, COP29 lead negotiator, told the media, "This will be a game-changing tool to direct resources to the developing world."

However, Harjeet Singh, Global Engagement Director for the Fossil Fuel Non-Proliferation Treaty Initiative, disagreed. "Fast-tracking carbon market rules at the start of COP29 sets a troubling precedent. Rushed rules open the door to weak, false 'solutions' that will only delay real climate action," he told this paper.

Article 6, offers two options for trading: countries can enter into bilateral agreements and set their own rules, or participate in a United Nations-supervised market open to all.

This UN supervised carbon market, in which the credit price will be fixed by the market players but embedded with third party accreditation, has several loopholes. Critics argue that the benefits of Article 6 are far from guaranteed, as they could result in potential human rights abuses and 'greenwashing', in which polluters can claim environmental progress without genuinely reducing emissions.

However, Martin Hession, Vice-Chair of the Article 6.4 of the Supervisory Body, told this newspaper, "there are enough safeguards to thwart greenwashing. Third party verification is integral. But, individual countries must also ensure the quality of credits. We are setting high quality standards."

On Article 6, India expects to conclude the deal. It hopes COP29 would be able to agree to a mechanism which uses market-based instruments (such as carbon credits) to incentivise low-carbon development.

Reliance to set up 500 compressed biogas plants with ₹65,000 cr

S VISWANATH @ Vijayawada

THE State government signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Reliance Industries for the establishment of 500 compressed biogas (CBG) plants with a total investment of around ₹65,000 crore (₹130 crore per plant).

All the available wastelands will be utilised for the project. The deal was signed in the presence of Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu at the State Secretariat on Tuesday.

The plants would create direct and indirect employment for around 2.50 lakh people with estimated financial benefit of around ₹57,650 crore over a period of 25 years through State Goods and Service Tax (SGST) collection, electricity duty and taxes on employment.

The production of around 39 lakh MT (Metric Tonne) of CBG per annum (7,800 MT per plant) will give a fillip to the State GDP by aiding industrial growth.

Terming the MoU a landmark, Naidu in a post on X (formerly Twitter) said, "Out of Reliance's national target of 2,000 CBG plants, 500 state-of-the-art CBG plants will be built throughout Andhra Pradesh over the next three years." P4

Lookout notice issued for Sajjala Bhargav Reddy

D SURENDRA KUMAR @ KADAPA

YSR District Police on Tuesday issued lookout notices for several YSRC social media activists, including the party's social media in-charge Sajjala Bhargav Reddy, and Arjun Reddy, a close relative of party president and former Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy, among others.

The development comes in the backdrop of a case being booked against them and YSRC social media activist Varra Ravinder Reddy under the SC/ST Prevention of Atrocities Act on November 8.

The lookout circular was issued on suspicion that Bhargav Reddy, who already faces several criminal cases in the State, might flee the country.

Based on the statement of Varra Ravindra Reddy, special teams have been deployed to trace Bhargav Reddy and Arjun Reddy. P4

CRINUM ANDHRICUM

New species of flower plant blooms in dry, rocky forests of Alluri district

USHA PERI @ Visakhapatnam

BOTANISTS have discovered a new species of flowering plant 'Crinum andhricum' in the Eastern Ghats of Andhra Pradesh.

Collected in April 2023 by a team led by scientist L Rasingam from the Botanical Survey of India, Deccan Regional Centre in Hyderabad, this species was found growing in the dry, rocky forests of the Sapparla hills in Alluri Sitarama Raju district at an elevation of 1,141 metres.

The researchers noted that Crinum andhricum, part of the Amaryllidaceae family, has unique characteristics that set it apart from other known species in the 'Crinum' genus.

The plant is closely related to two species — Crinum amoenum and Crinum stracheyi — but differs in key ways.

The study stated that Crinum andhricum has distinct features, including wider, oblanceolate perianth lobes (the outer part of the flower) and a greater number of flowers per cluster-producing between 12 and 38 flowers in each. It also noted that the plant's pedicelled flowers (with a stalk-like structure) make it unique among species in the region.

The flowers of Crinum andhricum are waxy white, blooming between April and June.

Standing on a tall stem that reaches up to 100 cm, the plant is well-suited to dry, rocky crevices in the Eastern Ghats. The leaves are large, elliptic, and have smooth, entire margins, features that the researchers noted add to its distinct appearance.

The species was named after Andhra Pradesh in recognition of the State where it was first found. It is the latest addition to India's Crinum species, bringing the total to 16, with several being endemic to India.

Rasingam and his team stated that the plant has a limited known range, as it has so far only been found at the Sapparla Hills viewpoint.

Despite observing over a 1,000 mature plants at the Sapparla hilltop, researchers cautioned that Crinum andhricum faces potential risks from human activities. They noted that the area, which is popular with tourists, faces threats from forest fires and grazing. P3

RED NOTICE

Bangladesh seeks Interpol help to get Hasina back

DHAKA

CHIEF Prosecutor of Bangladesh International Crimes Tribunal (ICT) Md Tajul Islam has written to Inspector General of Police Md Moinul Islam, seeking action to issue a red notice through Interpol for ousted prime minister Sheikh Hasina and her aides, a media report said on Tuesday.

The chief prosecutor sent the letter to the Inspector General of Police on Tuesday, Bangla daily Prothom Alo reported, citing sources at the tribunal.

Officials said a Red Notice is not an international arrest warrant but rather a global request for law enforcement agencies to locate and provisionally arrest a person pending extradition, surrender, or similar legal action.

Interpol member countries enforce Red Notices according to their national laws.

The development comes two days after Law Affairs adviser Asif Nazrul on Sunday said Bangladesh will seek Interpol's assistance in repatriating Hasina from India and other "fugitives" to face trial for alleged crimes against humanity.

Hasina and her party leaders face accusations of ordering brutal suppression of the Anti-Discrimination Students Movement, resulting in numerous casualties during the July-August protests. The movement later intensified into a large-scale uprising, forcing Hasina to flee to India on August 5.

According to the interim government led by Chief Adviser Muhammad Yunus, at least 753 people were killed and thousands injured during the protests. PTI

Israel opens Gaza aid crossing, ahead of US deadline

JERUSALEM

ISRAEL's army announced the opening on Tuesday of an additional aid crossing into Gaza, on the eve of a United States-imposed deadline to improve humanitarian conditions for Palestinians in the war-ravaged territory.

"As part of the effort and commitment to increase the volume and routes of aid to the Gaza Strip, the 'Kissufim' Crossing was opened today," the army said in a joint statement with COGAT, the Israeli defence ministry agency responsible for civilian affairs in the Palestinian territories.

"The operation... includes the delivery of food, water, medical supplies, and shelter equipment to central and southern Gaza," they said, adding it involved the military, COGAT and defence ministry.

"The IDF (Israeli army), through COGAT, will continue to operate in accordance with international law to facilitate and ease the delivery of humanitarian aid to the Gaza Strip."

Last month, US Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin warned Israel it had until November 13 to improve aid delivery to Gaza or risk the withholding of some military assistance from the US, Israel's biggest supporter.

The letter was sent weeks before the November 5 US presidential election won by Donald Trump, who has promised to give Israel freer rein.

Although outgoing President Joe Biden had repeatedly urged Israel to deliver more humanitarian aid and protect civilians, he mostly stopped short of using leverage such as cutting off weapons.

Kissufim, near a kibbutz across from southern Gaza that was attacked in the October 7, 2023 Hamas assault that sparked the war, has mostly been in disuse except by the military since Israel withdrew from Gaza in 2005. AFP

Man rams car into crowd, kills 35

43 others hurt, say Chinese police; driver detained; said to be upset over divorce settlement

ZHUHAI

A man who authorities said was upset over his divorce settlement rammed his car into a crowd of people exercising at a sports complex in southern China, killing 35 and severely injuring dozens of others, police said Tuesday.

Police detained the 62-year-old man, who is being treated for wounds thought to be self-inflicted, shortly after the attack on Monday night in the southern Chinese city of Zhuhai. He was dissatisfied with the split of financial assets in his divorce, according to a preliminary investigation, police said. Police identified the man detained in the attack only by his family name of Fan.

Chinese leader Xi Jinping called for the "strict" punishment of the perpetrator according to law, in a statement. He also called on all local governments "to strengthen prevention and control of risks at the source, strictly prevent extreme cases from occurring, and to resolve conflicts and disputes in a timely manner," as per official Xinhua news agency. The city is hosting the People's Liberation Army's annual aviation exhibition, which opened on Tuesday, and searches for what happened were censored for users behind China's Great Firewall.

Outside of the Chinese controls, videos circulated on X showed dozens of people could be seen lying on the track at the sports complex, which is used by hundreds of residents to run, play or dance. In one, shared by news blogger and dissident Li Ying, a woman says 'my foot is broken.' That same video showed a firefighter performing CPR on a person, as others were told to leave. Li, who is known on X as Teacher Li, posts news based on user submissions. In addition to the 35 people killed, police said 43 were injured. AP

Chinese hawk Rubio tipped for US Secretary of State

WASHINGTON

US President-elect Donald Trump announced new members of his incoming administration on Monday, and was expected to pick Senator Marco Rubio as secretary of State. Both Rubio and Congressman Michael Waltz, who has been lined up for the powerful National Security Advisor role, have notably hawkish views on China, which they see as a threat and challenge to US economic and military might.

The two appointees, both from Florida, would be key architects of Trump's "America First" foreign policy, with the incoming president having promised to end the wars raging in Ukraine and the Middle East, and avoid any more US military entanglements. The 78-year-old Republican tycoon has vowed his second stint in power will result in a radical shake-up of the federal government.

Trump's team said Lee Zeldin, an early political ally, would be proposed as Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) chief with a mandate to slash climate and pollution regulations that are considered red tape by businesses.

Trump said Zeldin would be tasked with making 'fair and swift deregulatory decisions,' with the tycoon promising to shred rules on safety and pollution that holds back businesses. "We will restore US energy dominance, revitalize our auto industry to bring back American jobs, and make the US the global leader of AI. We will do so while protecting access to clean air and water," Zeldin. AFP

G77, China demand $1.3 tn in climate finance from rich nations

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA
EXPRESS IN BAKU

AT COP29, the G77 bloc of developing nations, along with China, has made a strong stance on the New Collective Quantified Goal (NCQG) for climate finance. Representing around 80% of the global population, the G77+China called for an ambitious climate finance target, demanding that developed countries commit at least $1.3 trillion per year to support developing nations in their climate action.

They said this funding is crucial for effective mitigation, adaptation, and addressing loss and damage from climate change, observers said.

The G77 rejected the framework proposed by the ad hoc work programme's co-chairs, asserting that it does not provide an adequate foundation for negotiations. Instead, the group is urging the newly appointed co-chairs of the NCQG contact group to produce a fresh, equitable text before the upcoming session. The bloc said the framework must reflect the needs of developing countries and uphold the principles of equity and Common But Differentiated Responsibilities and Respective Capabilities, enshrined in both the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change and the Paris Agreement.

The G77 plus China also reportedly said that the NCQG should be a public finance goal exclusively for developing countries, not a global investment target. They insisted that climate finance should be "new and additional, predictable, adequate, and grant-based." They called for concessional financing terms that do not add to the debt burdens of developing countries, stressing that funds should be non-debt-inducing to enhance fiscal space in vulnerable economies.

They urged that finance access should remain free from conditionalities that infringe on national sovereignty. A core point of contention is the quality of finance, with the G77 and civil society organisations pushing to exclude non-concessional loans and export credits from being counted as climate finance.

Rachel Cleetus, Policy Director at the Union of Concerned Scientists, said, "There's no doubt that the lack of federal action on climate change is a big problem, and it's going to hobble US climate action that's devastating at a time when people in the US and around the world are suffering from extreme fossil fuel climate disasters."

"But here at COP 29 the Biden administration is still a government, and we expect them here to show leadership, take responsibility and push for ambitious outcomes at this COP in the negotiations in next two weeks."
