BLACK MARKET | Miller sold 4,546 quintals of rice

Rice mills causes Rs 1 cr loss to government coffers

FP News Service
BALAGHAT

Rice miller received 23,814 quintals of paddy for custom milling in 2024-25, but deposited only 11,568 quintals of rice

The government has incurred a loss of over Rs 1 crore because a rice miller in Balaghat has allegedly sold 4,546 quintals of rice in the black market.

The rice miller received 23,814 quintals of paddy for custom milling in 2024-25, but it deposited only 11,568 quintals of rice.

It came to light that the rice miller manipulated 6,487 quintals of paddy.

According to reports, the rice millers in the district get paddy for custom milling, but they black-market rice after custom milling of paddy.

They collect poor-quality rice from other places and supply it to the government.

Earlier, the guilty rice millers were let off the hook with a mild warning, but this year, the administration has acted against it.

According to reports, the officials found 6,487.97 quintals of paddy less than the quantity of paddy that the miller in Khairlanji had received.

Junior civil supplies officer in Khairlanji, Ashwini Deshmukh, said a case had been registered against the rice mill owner.

When Superintendent of Police Aditya Mishra came to know of the irregularity in one rice mill, he decided to bring all other rice- milling firms—where a lesser amount of rice was found than the amount of paddy given to them for milling—under the scanner.

There are 18 rice mills which did not deposit rice against the paddy they received.

The irregularity at the Khairlanji rice milling firm came to light on October 12 during the physical verification of stock.

It also came to light that the rice miller brought poor-quality rice from Bihar for public distribution and mid-day meals.

Mishra said a probe into the irregularities committed by the rice millers was underway.

The rice millers are supplying poor-quality rice for public distribution, which is a criminal offence, and such rice millers will face the music, Mishra said.

Similarly, two other rice millers also committed irregularities. In all three rice mills, including the one in Khaairlanji, 23,808 quintals of paddy worth Rs 47,58,000 were not found.

An FIR has been registered against the rice millers, official sources said.

2 groups clash at Gupt Godavari over extortion

FP News Service
SATNA

There was a clash between two groups over extortion in the Gupta Godavari area at Chitrakoot in Satna district, on Friday.

The members of both groups attacked each other with sticks and rods, which was caught on CCTV camera.

According to reports, a gang of people operating in Gupt Godavari is extorting money from devotees by offering to help them avoid standing in queues.

Sources said these people took the devotees to Gupt Godavari through the exit door by taking Rs 100 from each devotee.

The gang also extort from the devotees in the name of performing rituals through priests. When three members of the gang, Sonu Pandey, Sachin Pandey, and Surendra Yadav, were taking devotees through the back door, a member of the other group Tyagi Patel started taking the devotees through the back-door.

Tyagi Patel and members of the other group had an altercation which turned into a clash in which sticks and rods were used.

Some locals convinced both groups and brought the situation under control.

Both groups did not lodge any complaint at the police station or at Nagar Parishad.

The order has been issued to protect human life and prevent adverse effects on public health and the environment. The ban will be applicable within the revenue limits of the district. Action will be taken against those violating the provisions of the prohibitory order.

Cyber fraudsters create fake social media accounts of Damoh, Mauganj collectors

OUR STAFF REPORTER
BHOPAL

Cyber fraudsters created fake social media accounts of Damoh collector Sudhir Kochhar and Mauganj collector Sanjay Jain to solicit financial help. A complaint was lodged after the matter came to light, officials said on Friday.

The accounts were created using forged documents and a Vietnamese country code to mask the perpetrators tracks. The impostor accounts, complete with the collectors profile pictures and official details, began sending urgent messages seeking financial aid under false pretences, ranging from fabricated emergencies to urgent official transfers.

Collector Kochhar, upon receiving information, alerted Superintendent of Police Shrutkirti Somvanshi. The collector said, As soon as the information surfaced, my e-governance and cyber teams swung into action. We traced the suspicious activity within hours, preventing any pecuniary loss. He added that a formal complaint against an unidentified person was lodged with the Damoh SP office. The SP said a similar incident took place in Mauganj, and the modus operandi of both frauds was the same.

Soybean procurement under Bhavantar Yojana begins in Sehore

FP News Service
SEHORE

The government started procuring soybeans under the Bhavantar Yojna in the district on Friday.

Collector K Balaguru inspected the Krishi Mandis in Ichhawar, Bherunda, Gopalpur, Rala and Larkui for smooth procurement of the crop.

When Balaguru K was inspecting Gopalpur Mandi, he directed the officials to get the road repaired. During the inspection, he also took feedback on the arrangements made for the farmers and interacted with the farmers to know their problems regarding the procurement of soya bean crops.

He told the officials that the farmers coming to the Mandi to sell their produce should not have any problem. The farmers should not be deprived of the benefits of Bhavantar Yojna, the collector said.

If there is any complaint from the farmers, it should be immediately solved, he said. He asked the officials of the revenue, agriculture and cooperative departments to inspect the Mandis for the smooth soybean procurement.

Sub-divisional magistrates Swati Mishra and Sudhir Kushwaha and other officials were present during the inspection.

Bandrabhan Mela from November 3

FP News Service
NARMADAPURAM

Every year when the first breeze of winter blows, a fair is organised at the confluence of the Narmada and Tawa rivers in Bandrabhan on Kartik Poornima.

This year, the fair will start on November 3 and continue till November 6. Collector Sonia Meena and Superintendent of Police Sai Krishna S Thota recently inspected the site of the fair.

Meena directed the officials to step up security for the fair and complete the parking and permit-giving arrangements.

She said a team of home guards and divers should be present at the Mela site until the fair concludes.

Chairman of Janpad Panchayat Bhupendra Choksey said the fair would be celebrated with enthusiasm.

The collector said the shops to be set up at the site should be provided with power connections, and the swing owners should be allowed only after they get security certificates.

The road leading to the fair site should be repaired, she said, adding that there should not be any problem in electricity supply to the fair site at night.

She directed the additional collector to coordinate with the water resources department and to do proper management of the Tawa dam. Sub-divisional magistrate of Narmadapuram Neeta Kori, deputy superintendent of police Santosh Kumar Mishra, SDOP Jitendra Pathak and others were present during the inspection.

Traffic chaos in Khajuraho, heavy vehicles enter restricted areas

No traffic police in sight

FP News Service
KHAJURAHO (CHHATARPUR)

The world-famous tourist city of Khajuraho is facing severe traffic congestion as heavy vehicles and tourist cars continue to move unchecked through restricted areas. Key roads from the new entrance of the Western Group of Temples to Matangeshwar T-junction, and from Matangeshwar to the Jain Temple road remain blocked throughout the day and even at night.

The worst congestion is reported near the Nandi T-junction, close to the exit gate of the Western Group of Temples. Despite a ban, heavy trucks, including 22-wheelers, regularly enter the city, causing inconvenience to tourists and residents alike. The absence of traffic police has further worsened the situation, especially on weekends and during festivals such as Amavasya and Teej, when tourist inflow peaks.

Haphazard parking near Matangeshwar Temple T-junction adds to the chaos, even though a tourist police outpost is nearby. Locals have demanded immediate action to restore order as the peak tourist season begins.

Basant Chaturvedi, CMO Khajuraho, acknowledged the issue, stating, "Traffic jams are caused by vehicles parked haphazardly on city roads. This is the responsibility of the traffic police. I will inform senior officers."

Responding to the complaints, SDOP Manmohan Singh Baghel said, "There is currently no traffic police force in Khajuraho but I will direct the SHO to deploy personnel for traffic management at key locations."
