‘Technology delayed is technology denied’

No point in delayed, already available things

Press Trust Of India

NEW DELHI: IAF chief Air Chief Marshal A P Singh on Thursday pitched for achieving greater self-reliance in building unmanned aerial systems and other critical defence technologies, as he emphasised that “technology delayed is technology denied” and there is no point having something which comes after others have already got it.

In his address at an event here, he also said there are “discussions happening between us and the Ministry of Civil Aviation, and other ministries involved” so that “we finally should be able to recognise a drone, whether it is a bona fide drone or a rogue drone”.“We should be able to have no fratricide, in terms of we shooting down our own drones or taking down something that is meant for us,” he said.At a workshop hosted here by the Society of Indian Defence Manufacturers (SIDM), and attended by various defence military and industry experts, the air chief marshal also spoke about integration of manned platforms and drones and other unmanned aerial systems (UAS), which would share the same airspace. “Integration is very important. We have manned platforms and long-range vectors which will continue to use the same airspace where the drones are going to come in. I am talking about a whole range of drones, from a small micro or mini drone to a UAS which is like a full aircraft, but unmanned.

Air Chief Marshal A P Singh

“Everybody is going to use the same airspace. So man, whether in the loop, on the loop, at least in planning, in terms of control, feedback system, situational awareness, we need to know each other’s positions, and understand how an airspace is going to be used, whether it is procedural control or active control,” he said.

Certification agencies must ensure labs, future growth

So, the certification agencies have to play a “big role” in whatever the requirements are there in labs to test them and also ensure future growth.

“That means all other technologies that are coming in, which are required to make the mission success, whether it is stealth, whether it is some countermeasures to make it survivable in the battlefield, all technologies have to develop along, and get miniaturised, for them to succeed,” he said. On cyber security, the air chief marshal said, it is a very important requirement to have “our sovereign stacks, secure networks storage and also data privacy”. “Then we should be able to make changes whenever we want, we should be able to encode anything, decode anything.

Shah’s absence from Parl ‘reeks of guilt’: Rahul

Press Trust Of India

NEW DELHI: Home Minister Amit Shah’s absence from Parliament “reeks of guilt”, Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi said on Thursday and again demanded a Supreme Court-monitored probe into the alleged police excesses against students during the NEET paper leak protests.

Gandhi also shared on X a video clip of police lathi-charging students.“-Students deserve justice. An independent SC-monitored high powered committee must be constituted to probe brutalities against our students,” he said on the social media site, referring to the crackdown on agitators by security forces during the July 20 Cockroach Janta Party-led protest march to Parliament and on student demonstrators in other parts of the country.In another post, Gandhi asked why Shah is “so scared” of coming to Parliament and explaining the brutal violence against students.“It reeks of guilt,” he added. Later, in a Facebook post, Gandhi said, “Unless the system changes, paper leaks will not stop!”Gandhi also on Wednesday demanded the sacking of Shah and the constitution of a Supreme Court-monitored probe into what he claimed was a “brutal attack” on protesting students and the use of pellet guns on them.The former Congress president alleged that by ordering the “brutalities” on students, Shah was culpable and hence should be removed.

‘Scam in plantation drive in Rajasthan, demand an inquiry’

Press Trust Of India

JAIPUR: Former Rajasthan chief minister Ashok Gehlot on Thursday alleged a scam in the state government’s plantation drive and demanded an inquiry into the matter. He also claimed that the BJP government has failed to carry forward the legacy of the previous Congress regime in increasing the state’s green cover.

Citing figures presented in the Lok Sabha, Gehlot said the India State of Forest Report (ISFR) 2023 of the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change showed that Rajasthan’s forest and tree cover increased from 26,995 sq km to 27,389 sq km during the previous Congress government’s tenure, registering a rise of 394.46 sq km.

The veteran Congress leader also claimed that Rajasthan ranked fourth in the country in terms of increase in forest and tree cover during the period. The achievement was significant for a state where nearly two-thirds of the geographical area is covered by the Thar desert, Gehlot said.
